SEVEN DAYS OF REFLECTION

DAY 1 / READ Joshua 1:1-9

Courage begins with presence

Joshua receives responsibility before he has a map of every outcome. God's promise of presence gives his courage a foundation. Our situations are different, but we too can seek faithfulness without pretending we are fearless.

REFLECT Where do you feel the weight of a new responsibility?

TRY THIS Name the responsibility in prayer and choose one wise next step.

PRAY God, help me remember your presence when I feel inadequate.

DAY 2 / READ Psalm 46:10-11

Make space to listen

Urgency can make us mistake movement for direction. Stillness gives us room to attend to God before reacting to pressure. A quiet pause may help us respond with greater wisdom and less fear.

REFLECT What noise is making it difficult to listen?

TRY THIS Spend five minutes without a screen, asking God for wisdom.

PRAY Lord, quiet my hurry and help me pay attention.

SEVEN DAYS OF REFLECTION

DAY 3 / READ Joshua 4:1-7

Remember the way through

The stones from the Jordan were a way to remember and retell what God had done. We also need reminders when the next uncertain season arrives. Gratitude can strengthen trust without promising an easy road.

REFLECT What past experience reminds you that you have not walked alone?

TRY THIS Write down three reminders of God's faithfulness and share one.

PRAY God, keep me from forgetting your care.

DAY 4 / READ Joshua 2:1-14

Grace beyond the expected

Rahab's place in Joshua's story challenges assumptions about who might respond in faith. God's redemptive work reaches beyond the circles we would naturally choose. Humility leaves room for a person to surprise us.

REFLECT Who have you been too quick to dismiss?

TRY THIS Pray for someone outside your usual circle and offer a respectful connection.

PRAY Lord, widen my capacity to recognize faith and welcome people.

SEVEN DAYS OF REFLECTION

DAY 5 / READ Psalm 27:13–14

Stay faithful in the waiting

Waiting is not proof that God has forgotten us. It can become a place to practice patience, seek counsel, and continue doing what is right. Faithfulness matters even when results remain out of sight.

REFLECT What are you tempted to force because waiting feels uncomfortable?

TRY THIS Choose one faithful action you can take without trying to control the outcome.

PRAY God, strengthen my heart and teach me patience.

DAY 6 / READ Joshua 24:14–15

Choose whom you will serve

A declaration of faith reaches into ordinary priorities. Time, habits, and loyalties reveal what we are serving. Joshua's invitation gives us a chance to examine the choices that shape our homes.

REFLECT Which daily habit best reflects what matters most to you?

TRY THIS Discuss one household habit you could align more closely with your faith.

PRAY Lord, shape our choices around love for you.

SEVEN DAYS OF REFLECTION

DAY 7 / READ Hebrews 10:23–25

Courage that encourages

Trust grows in community as we remind one another of God's faithfulness. We do not have to carry every uncertain step alone. Encouragement becomes useful when it includes presence and practical support.

REFLECT Who could you walk alongside in a difficult season?

TRY THIS Send a specific encouragement and offer one concrete form of support.

PRAY God, use my presence to strengthen someone else.

What will you carry forward?
